Dear TPAA Presidents, Drs. Siriporn Kulkamthorn (2016-17) and Sunti Srivathanakul (2018-19),

It is my honor to most gratefully acknowledge your generous gift of $100,000 from TPAA to support the Thai Scholars Fellowship Fund at Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health. Throughout the Campaign, investments from donors like you strengthen the School's capacity to address critical public health issues and continue groundbreaking research. Your support empowers both the faculty and students and enables Dean Michelle Williams to pursue exciting opportunities as they arise. And your gift has the extraordinary ripple effect of improving the health of potentially millions of people around the world. Your generosity combined with that of other TPAA friends and supporters, makes the School a remarkable place of learning, discovery and innovation.

Thank you again for your commitment to the Harvard Chan School's public health mission and your investment in the School's future. Given TPAA's significant role in founding the Harvard fund, we hope that all of your members take pride in this endeavor and will continue to be part of this noble cause through your support. Together, we can have a lasting impact on the health and well-being of people around the world.

The founding of this prestigious Fund through the collaboration of the Harvard Chan School, TPAA, and the King of Thailand Birthplace Foundation (KTBF) is a unique commitment to Thai scholars in the field of public health, and we look forward to continuing to work with TPAA's board, to fulfill its mission for years to come. The immediate response to the initial fundraising goal- raising $100,000 in just a few weeks- confirms TPAA members' strong and generous commitment to giving back to Thailand through this fund. We deeply appreciate and encourage TPAA members to embrace this opportunity to make an impact by continuing to give to the Fund this year as we work to create a philanthropic legacy. If, with the help of TPAA's members, we can meet the minimum endowment goal of $250,000, we will have even more to celebrate when we meet in person at Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health this August.

With my warm regards,
